HELSINKI, Dec. 19. — At least two Soviet bombers and possibly nore were downed today during an air raid in which eleven bombs were dropped on a Helsinki suburb without damage.

Seven Russian planes roared over Helsinki, hiding behind cloud banks from volleys of anti-aircraft fire. They disappeared to the north-west, and later only three were sighted returning.

POWER OF THE PURSE

A practice considerably older than forking over money to political campaign headquarters is that he who pays the fiddler calls the tune.

In the days when parties obtained their money from individual "fat cats," it was charged-with good cause—that the contributors thereafter exercised the right to dictate party policy. Corporations were barred from making political contributions and

They were accused of "undermining the structure that no one had thought of a way to raise money for campaigns that wasn't questionable. Democrats made some improvements when they took over the government after 1933; at least they claimed they had made improvements. Republicans

They admitted the Democrats showed more ingenuity, but questioned the ethics and even the legality of some of the ingenious measures used. As far as ingenuity's concerned, nothing can beat the McNutt collections from Indiana jobholders.

As for accepting money raised by labor unions, notably the C. I. O., even some Democrats questioned the propriety of their party's campaign financing policy, on the theory that there was no essential difference between a large and powerful labor organization and a corporation, yet the latter is forbidden by law to contribute to political campaigns.

The same question, is raised anew by reports that C. I. O. is preparing to raise another large sum of money for political purposes. An answer will be sought in the next session of congress. "Undermining the structure of free political institutions" is no more tolerable than it ever was.

TALLY ONE FOR COMMON SENSE

During the late era of bogeymen and shivery M. E. Farr. creatures under the bed who were going to spring out and extinguish civilization at one fell swoop, common sense warned that imagination was running away

It warned in particular that the theory of "lightning war," cherished by militarists, was a pipe dream. It hadn't worked in Ethiopia against poorly equipped troops. It hadn't worked in CChina or in Spain. It wouldn't worl against France and Great Britain, and they doubted if it would work against Poland.

They argued that surprise was impossible in these days of quick communication and that without surprise "blitzkrieg" was out of the question. To be sure, a strong, well organized offense could overwhelm a weak, poorly organized one, but the theory of quick, overwhelming destruction of a nation resolved to defend itself was preposterous. Belgium had proved it was preposterous in the World war.

Poland did not prove anything to the contrary. the other hand, quickly deadlocked the military issue were enjoyed and lunch was served. on the western front. England and Scotland were not blotted out from the air, as alarmists had feared sister, Mrs. Ella Switzer, of Main st. they would be.

Frankly, they are disappointed. It was their notion that airship designers had progressed a good deal further than is indicated by the act of wrecking on it, and he doesn't rattle before he strikes. the Los Angeles to find out what made it strong.

When they were building airships in Akron, it was supposed that everything about them had been earth's people unite in asking: "What's the use?" figured out on paper. When the airships subsequently broke up in the air, the disasters were attributed to forces beyond human control.

Yet, years later, here are highly skilled men dismantling one of Germany's successful ships to find out what made it tick so well. The post mortem seems to be a few decades too late in view of the disastrous failures of Great Britain, France and the United States with lighter-than-air craft.

POWER OF THE PURSE

A practice considerably older than forking over money to political campaign headquarters is that he who pays the fiddler calls the tune.

In the days when parties obtained their money from individual "fat cats," it was charged-with good cause-that the contributors thereafter exercised the right to dictate party policy. Corporations were claimed they had made improvements. Republicans

They admitted the Democrats showed more ingenuity, but questioned the ethics and even the legality of some of the ingenious measures used. As far as ingenuity's concerned, nothing can beat the McNutt collections from Indiana jobholders.

As for accepting money raised by labor unions, notably the C. I. O., even some Democrats questioned policy, on the theory that there was no essential difference between a large and powerful labor organizalaw to contribute to political campaigns.

The same question is raised anew by reports that C. I. O. is preparing to raise another large sum of money for political purposes. An answer will be sought in the next session of congress. "Undermining the structure of free political institutions" is no more at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Maule of High st. tolerable than it ever was.

TALLY ONE FOR COMMON SENSE

During the late era of bogeymen and shivery M. E. Farr. creatures under the bed who were going to spring out and extinguish civilization at one fell swoop, common sense warned that imagination was running away

THOSE LOS ANGELES TESTS

With a respectful nod to the experts who are pulling the navy dirigible Los Angeles to pieces by main force to see how strong it is, a lot of common people must confess to a feeling of puzzlement.

Frankly, they are disappointed. It was their notion that airship designers had progressed a good deal further than is indicated by the act of wrecking on it, and he doesn't rattle before he strikes. the Los Angeles to find out what made it strong.

When they were building airships in Akron, it was supposed that everything about them had been earth's people unite in asking: "What's the use?" figured out on paper. When the airships subsequently broke up in the air, the disasters were attributed to forces beyond human control.

Red Raider Downed by Finn Sharpshooters

International Illustrated News Radiophoto

Finnish soldiers examine the wreckage of a big Russian bomber brought down by their sharpshooters in wooded terrain near the Soviet-Finnish border. The Finns are noted marksmen. Soviet authorities deny Finnish reports that large numbers of Red air raiders have been downed.

Human Bombs Threaten Finns

Human bombs, these Russian machine-gunners are destined to be dropped into Finnish territory from Soviet warplanes. They have had long, intensive training in the parachuting technique, are expected to get a chance to try out the maneuver under fire as mighty Russia carries out its "defensive" war with puny Finland.

MERRY CHRISTMAS and HAPPY NEW YEAR!

To all God's children everywhere. This is the one time of the year when the rich and the poor, the high and the low and the meek and the mighty mingle together in one accord and on one common plane to lay aside their arduous duties in order to ring out gladness and cheer, to help those who are needy, and to do homage to the lowly child of Bethlehem. During all the coming year may the world be so filled with reverence for The Omnipotent and love for one's fellow man that swords shall be turned back to plowshares, spears into pruning hooks and all the world lulled into a tranquil and lasting peace.

MERRY CHRISTMAS and HAPPY NEW YEAR!

To all God's children everywhere. This is the one time of the year when the rich and the poor, the high and the low and the meek and the mighty mingle together in one accord and on one common plane to lay aside their arduous duties in order to ring out gladness and cheer, to help those who are needy, and to do homage to the lowly child of Bethlehem. During all the coming year may the world be so filled with reverence for The Omnipotent and love for one's fellow man that swords shall be turned back to plewshares, spears into pruning hooks and all the world lulled into a tranquil and lasting peace.

CARROLL CLUB, SANITARY TIE FOR TOP SPOT

Two Teams Share Lead In Class A Basketball League

Remaining unbeaten by gaining victories in games last night, the National Sanitary and Car-Club shared the lead in the the Carroll Club cagers walloped out of a tie for last place. Two matches were postponed.

The Colonial Finance went four

The Sanitary led all the way in rolling to its victory, although City league at the Grate lanes. Roberts' five was never more than winning two out of three heats five points behind. The Enamelware lads led 9 to 6 at the end of the first quarter, 17 to 14 at halftime and 29 to 24 at the close of Co the third period.

Al Catles and Bob Jeffries paced the Sanitary scoring, Catlos counting 10 points and Jeffries nine.

Raynes Paces Carrolls Clay Raynes was the big gun in the Carroll Club's win over Demings, hopping five field goals and three free throws for 13 points. The Carrolls took a five-point lead in the first period, increased their advantage to seven points in the second period and led 20 to 9 at the end of the third frame.

The Christians and Young People's Catholic Club came through with their second victories to tie for the lead in the Class B league With Franks setting the pace, the Christians finished strong to trounce Rudabaugh's Sohioans, 28 to 15. Franks connected for five field goals to lead the scoring with 10 points.

A late rally enabled the Young People's Catholic Club to nose out the "T" Club, 29 to 26, after a close battle in which the lead changed hands numerous times. Walker and Drugs

Looks Ahead

Mack the elder, the maker and breaker of great ball teams, the winner of nine American league pennants and five world championships, is looking ahead at an age when most men are looking behind. 7 p. m.—Baptists vs. Trades Class ailing A's will be at the top again -and he with them.

"I look forward to a winning team next year," he declares optimistically as he sits these wintry days in his Shibe park office. "Rather a winning team than a pennant winner, for if you have a winning team you always have a chance to capture the pennant.'

To suggestions that his critical illness of last summer might hasten his retirement, Connie shakes his head and replies: "I had a tough time, but I got over it all right and I never felt better in my life than I do now." Except for some lost pounds, he looks it.

"When you get up in years and have a couple of close calls, you learn to live," Mack muses. "I have learned and feel better for it."

"LOVE'S INTERLUDE" by CHRISTIE

Tarleton Moira Carewe and Tarleton Griggs are in love, but wealthy, self-made Joseph Griggs has social aspirations for his son and does not approve of a match with a mere ethnologist's daughter. So happy-go-lucky Tarry, realizing the comforts his father's wealth affords him, placates "pater" by becoming engaged to Lady Careen Kilmorny. At a hunts meet, the day before their scheduled marriage, Lady Careen comes upon Tarry and Moira in a tender embrace. Disillusioned, she gallops off, straight to-wards "Devil's Leap," a treacherous jump. She takes it, but falls and is killed. Tarry and Moira are conscience stricken. He goes abroad and Moira doesn't see him until months later when she accompanies a wealthy family to Paris as tutor to their two children. There Tarry and she plan to marry, but again Griggs, Schior, steps in and frustrates them. He takes his son to Baden-Baden where the socially prominent Sadie Vandergelt, Griggs choice for a daughter-in-law, is also vacationing. Although wrote he would run over to Paris to see Moira, she waited in vain. They all return home in the fall. Then comes the stock market crash. Mr. Griggs is ruined and the shock Tarry gets a position with a Wall Street brokerage house as customers' man and Moira becomes a beauty operator in Cora Deverney's beauty shop, Mrs. Rules, a wealthy, middle-aged widow, compliments Moira for the rejuvenation wonders she performed on her face.
